WHAT DO THE CHILDREN DRINK?
Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their system. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about one-quarter as much. All grocers sell it. 5c and 10c.

EXPLORATIONS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Work Done by Princeton University Scientists.

MARINE FOSSILS FOUND

Facts Concerning the Origin of Patagonia's Lake Systems.

Attention Given to the Ethnology and Philology of Indian Tribes of the Region.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 14.—The second expedition sent out by the university to explore Southern Patagonia and Terra del Fuego, and supplement the work done by John Bell Hatcher and O. A. Peterson, of the university, who made the first expedition, has thus far been successful.

They have made a complete section of the marine tertiary deposits of this region and got collections of fossils from them. The present expedition has explored the country inland and to the northward for a distance of 50 miles from the Straits of Magellan, adding much to the knowledge of the geography of the country and discovering in latitude 42 degrees 30 minutes south, and longitude 72 degrees 15 minutes west, at the base of the Andes, a beautiful lake 50 miles in length, not previously reported. In the region of this lake a new and rich locality for the vertebrate fossils was discovered and many new facts were observed bearing upon the geology of the country. Attention was also given to the lake systems of Patagonia and many new facts observed bearing upon the origin of the three distinct lake systems found in this region.

Considerable time was taken in the examination of the animal life and the collection of recent birds was greatly augmented. Extensive collections of the fresh-water and marine mollusks and crustacea have been secured, as also a series of spiders and beetles, together with a complete series of lizards and frogs.

Considerable attention has been paid to the ethnology and philology of the Indian tribes of this region. In this work the expedition has received advice and assistance from the bureau at Washington. In addition to considerable collections of the art and manufactures of the tribes inhabiting these regions a series of photographs was secured and a fairly complete dictionary of the Yuki language compiled. Darwin considered the Yuki as the most degraded of all human beings. While at one time numerous, at present they are on the verge of extinction. This fact renders all the more valuable the study of their language and the collection of their songs, traditions, etc., which has been secured by the expedition, although it is somewhat incomplete. The present expedition is composed of J. B. Hatcher and A. E. Colburn, and has now been in the field eleven months. It will be continued for two years.

CHILD ATTACKED BY A VICIOUS GOAT

Little Annie Buckley Seriously Injured by the Animal in a Brooklyn Street.

New York, Nov. 14.—Sergeant Parrot, of the Flatbush police precinct, was yesterday notified that a vicious goat was at large in the neighborhood of Grant and Lawrence Streets.

The goat was first called to the attention of the police by Daniel Buckley, of No. 107 Grant Street. Mr. Buckley declared that his four-year-old daughter Annie was in bed suffering intense pain because of a butting received from the goat. Her injuries are serious. The child was playing in the street when attacked. She was knocked down, her face and head torn, her body badly bruised and her clothing torn to shreds.

Malcolm Sarah Cartwright, who lives with her stepfather, George C. Tice, at Grant and Lawrence Streets, were also attacked.

It is claimed that the goat is responsible for the death of six-year-old Henry Hafner, the son of Alois Hafner, of Grant Street. The child died of brain fever, due to a severe fall. He had been attacked by the goat just before this.

COMMITTS SUICIDE AFTER A QUARREL

A Young Heide of Brooklyn Ends Earthly Troubles by Drinking Carbolic Acid.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Rose Sweet, twenty-three years old, of No. 99 Lawrence Street, this city, drank carbolic acid in her home at noon yesterday and died an hour later in the Brooklyn Hospital.

Mrs. Sweet lived with her husband Bernard and his mother, Mrs. Rachel Sweet. On Saturday night she and her mother-in-law quarreled.

The younger woman seemed despondent over the quarrel all yesterday morning. At noon she went to a closet where carbolic acid was kept. Her husband heard her scream and ran into the kitchen to find her lying on the floor. She was moaning, and Sweet called in Policeman Fitzgerald, of the Adams Street station, who summoned an ambulance from the Brooklyn Hospital.

A Sure Sign of Croup.
Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon to give pleasant relief. OPPOSED TO THE PASTOR'S CHOICE

CHURCH ELDERS CHOOSE BRIDE

Romance of the Rev. George Allen, Who Fell in Love With a Training Nurse.

Newburg, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Although persistent effort has been made to create the belief that ill-health drove the Rev. George Allen, the brilliant Presbyterian minister of Milton, Ulster County, to send six bullets into his head at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Henry Hustis, in Cold Spring, last Thursday, there are many who hold that his love affair had more to do with it. The opinion of these optimists is formed by the stories concerning the minister which have been called up by his attempt on his life.

It is now told that when at a church soiree in Milton ten days ago the Rev. Mr. Allen announced his engagement to Miss Mary Noakes, a young training nurse, who lives in New York, whom he had met on a steamer coming from Scotland. Decided opposition instantly developed. Chief among the reasons shown for hostility to the minister's choice of a bride, it is said, were the elders of the church of which he is pastor.

Miss Noakes, who obtained her professional training in St. Luke's Hospital, in New York, is an Episcopalian. The elders of the Milton Church, which is strict in orthodoxy, frowned upon their minister's marriage with one of a different denomination. They held that it would be unseemly for a minister to go outside the faith for a bride.

It is asserted, too, that the elders and others interested in the talented preacher's welfare had already made what they considered a desirable selection of a wife for him. To their satisfaction they had agreed that the pretty young daughter of a local physician would be the woman to grace the parsonage and aid the minister in his pastoral work.

That the Rev. Mr. Allen had views of his own on the subject which were opposed to those who had schemed for him may have caused the minister's disquiet. It is asserted that much of the opposition to his engagement to Miss Noakes is because the members of his church prefer a wife who is a social success.

It is conceded that the minister was suffering from nervous prostration, but in view of the circumstances which have come to light in the twenty-four hours since his attempt at suicide was made, public there are those who contend that the opposition to his marriage had far greater effect on his mental condition than did overwork, as his relatives would have the community believe.

Another story, one of those which spring fresh every hour in Milton as to the cause of the minister's collapse, is that he lost a large sum of money on the recent election. Somebody has said that he was a heavy backer of Van Wyck, and that ill luck made him despondent.

Miss Noakes has not yet gone to the Rev. Mr. Allen, although she knows of his condition. Mrs. Hustis sent her a long telegram today telling how the minister was faring, and it is expected that she will arrive in Cold Spring tomorrow.

Four of the bullets have been removed from the victim's head, but two still remain there. It is said tonight that he is improving. None of his Milton parishioners have been to see him.

ELECTED UNDER UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCES

Mr. Jacob Haas Received Three Votes and Will Go to the Virginia Legislature.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—Jacob Haas, a well-known citizen of Norfolk, has been elected to the legislature of Virginia under rather unusual circumstances. The votes of three citizens elected Mr. Haas. It happened in this way: Mr. Charles G. Kizer, who represented Norfolk in the last general assembly, was recently appointed chief of police of this city. Mr. Kizer tendered his resignation as a member of the house to Gov. Tyler, who ordered a special election to fill the vacancy. No one seemed to want the position, so no candidate announced himself.

When the commissioners of election met to canvass the vote polled at Tuesday's election they found that three citizens had voted for Mr. Haas as representative from this city. The commissioners were surprised to find that each of the three ballots had written upon it "For House of Delegates, State of Virginia, Mr. Jacob Haas."

Several lawyers have expressed the opinion that Mr. Haas was legally elected, basing their opinions upon section 13, chapter 70, acts of assembly, 1886-96, which reads as follows:

"It shall be lawful for any voter to erase any or all names printed upon said official ballot and substitute therein in writing the name of any person or persons for any office he may desire to vote."

Mr. Haas says that if he has been, as he believes, legally elected, he will serve should the governor call an extra session of the legislature.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.
